Interview Memo.

The officers and officials of the General and Revenue Secretariat propose to form a 'Secretariat Cooperative Society'. The need for a such a society has long been keenly felt. Many of the officials have of necessity fallen into the clutches of Multani money lenders and have been paying an interest ranging from two to four annas per rupee per month. Besides, the lower subordinate employees of Government are generally very poor and they cannot do without ~~xxxxx~~ credit in these hard days. A distinguishing feature of the proposed society, tending to its successful working, is that the instalments of loan together with interest are proposed to be deducted out of the borrowing officials' pay.

2. We beg that the Dewan may be graciously pleased to be the Patron of the Society. We similarly beg the Chief Secretary to be the President.

3 To enable the Society to work successfully in its intial stages we are in need of a few concessions at the hands of Government, viz.,

~~4~~ 1. A deposit of Rs 10,000 free of interest for a period of five years;

2. A small room in the Public Offices;

3. The loan of an iron safe from the Secretariat Stores and

4. Permission to get our petty printing work done in the multigraph Section.

5 We respectfuly pray that the above requests may be sympathetically considered.

18 The Registrar in charge of Co-operative Societies has suggested the following Restriction Re admission of Members to the Society:

19 No persons who are already members of other Co-operative Credit Societies in the City shall be admitted to membership without the permission of the Registrar in writing. This is said to be necessary to prevent reckless borrowing.

20 Almost all the Officials of the Secretariat are now members of one or more Co-operative Credit institutions. If this Restriction is imposed, the Officials must either resign their membership in other Credit institutions, or the Registrar must give special sanction in the case of all 25 I think the suggestion not to permit voting by proxy might be accepted.

26 The other suggestion – restricting membership to persons who are not already members in other Co-operative Societies – seems to me harsh and unnecessary. Reckless borrowing is prevented by the requirement, which I believe obtains in all credit societies, that the applicant for a loan shd give a list of his liabilities to other societies. ~~A condition that his information shd be furnished may be introduced in the by-laws if necessary~~ but I think under bye-law 58 is sufficient to enable the Management to insist on this condition.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.O.2122 dated 20th December 1929 calling for my views in the matter of the grant of a deposit of Rs.10,000/- and certain other concessions to the proposed Secretariat Co-operative Society, I have the honour to state that the grant of the concessions prayed for will go a long way to put the Institution on a sound working basis and enable it to be of immense use to the officials of the Secretariat. The grant of the deposit interest free will enable the society to build a decent reserve fund. It may be stipulated that the profits earned by the society out of this deposit should be carried to the reserve fund. The other concessions re: room, iron-safe, petty printing work etc., may also be sanctioned.

Withdrawal.

10. No member shall be permitted to withdraw within one year of admission, but after that period, he may withdraw all or any of his shares by giving at least a month's notice in writing to the Secretary.

11. He shall be entitled, on the expiry of this notice, and on production of his share certificate, if any issued to him, to the full paid-up value of the shares withdrawn after deducting therefrom all sums due by him to the Society either as principal or surety. If he withdraws all his shares he shall be entitled neither to the dividend nor to the bonus rebate which may be distributed out of the profit of the year in which he withdraws. If he withdraws only a few of his shares, he shall be entitled to the dividend only on the balance of his shares.

12. The Committee may, in case of necessity, at any time suspend by a resolution the right of withdrawal for the period named therein ; but such resolution shall be subject to confirmation at the next General Meeting.

Removal.

13. A member may be removed by the Committee of Management for—

(a) continued default of his dues to the Society,

(b) wilful deception by false statements or fictitious documents,

(c) any criminal offence of which he stands convicted and which, in the opinion of the Committee, is of a serious nature,

(d) any conduct proved to the satisfaction of the Committee by which he may weaken the financial credit or interest of the Society or bring it into disrepute,

(e) bankruptcy,

(f) cessation of his eligibility for membership under any of these bye-laws, such as lunacy and other causes.

14. In the case of removal, the members removed shall have the right to receive at the end of the 3rd month from the date of order of removal, the paid up value of their shares after deducting therefrom all sums due by them to the Society either as principals or as sureties, but they are not entitled to any dividend or bonus. If the dues to the Society are not covered by their share amount, they shall be liable to be proceeded against for the recovery of the balance due.

15. (1) If within one month from date of reliable information of the death of a member, no application is received from his nominee whose name has been registered in the society or his heir claiming the Share and other amounts standing at the credit of the deceased member, or if any application has been received and rejected, the Committee shall, after deducting all sums due by the deceased to the society, transfer the net amount to a deposit account which shall carry interest at 3 1/8 per cent per annum for payment to the nominee or heir when he claims it.

(2) An application received within the prescribed period will be placed by the Secretary before the Committee who, on being satisfied of the validity of the claim, may admit the applicant as a member if he is qualified under the bye-laws, on his paying the prescribed transfer fee and also the amounts due by the deceased member, and transfer to his name the shares held by, and the amounts due to, the deceased. Otherwise, the amount if any due to the deceased may be paid to the nominee or heir and the account closed.

(3) Nothing contained in the two preceding clauses of this rule shall be deemed to prevent the Committee in special circumstances, when money may be urgently needed for the funeral expenses of the deceased member or the pressing needs of his family, from making to the nominee or heir such advance out of the sums due to the deceased as they may deem proper.

Capital.

16. The capital of the Society shall consist of subscribed share amounts, and such other amounts as may be assigned to it.

17. The share capital of the Society shall, for the present, be Rs. 25,000 made up of 2,500 shares of Rs. 10 each.

18. Each member shall hold at least one share and no member shall have more than 50 shares.

19. When the amount payable on the share or shares applied for is not tendered in full with the application, it shall be paid in monthly instalments of not less than 8 annas per share.

In the case of members earning less than Rs. ~~20~~ 30 per month, the ~~Committee may authorise~~ shall be payment in monthly instalments of not less than 4 annas. Such instalments shall be paid in advance at the Society on or before the 10th of each month.

20. If the share instalment is not paid on or before the due date, interest calculated at 3 pies per rupee per month or part thereof shall be charged. If such instalment becomes due for more than 3 months, the shares shall, at the discretion of the Committee of Management, be liable to forfeiture by the Society and previous payments made on that account shall become the property of the Society. But the forfeiture may be remitted by the Committee if the sum due with interest at 6 pies per rupee per month or part thereof is paid within one month from the date of issue of notice of forfeiture. Such notice shall invariably be sent to the registered address of the member within a week after the declaration of forfeiture. The amount forfeited shall be credited to the Reserve Fund.

Shares and Share Certificates.

21. Each share shall be entered under a distinct serial number and share certificates issued consecutively according to their numbers. But no such certificate will be issued unless the share amount payable on the share or shares taken up is fully paid up. All share certificates shall be signed by the President and the Secretary and bear the seal or stamp of the Society.

22. In case of loss or destruction of a share certificate, a duplicate may be issued on payment of a fee of annas 8 and on a declaration in writing by the member concerned that the original was lost or destroyed and that no claim would be made on the original certificate.

23. No share can be sold or inherited, but there is no objection to its being withdrawn or transferred under the provision contained in these bye-laws.

24. A member may apply for the transfer of any of his shares to another member; but if he wishes to transfer all his shares, his application shall be deemed to be one for cessation of membership by withdrawal and dealt with accordingly.

25. No transfer of shares shall be made unless the member has held such shares for at least 3 years, pays a fee of annas 4 per share and tenders his share certificate with a written application for transfer. No transfer shall be valid until it is accepted by the Committee and registered in the books of the Society. The Committee may not accept any transfer unless the transferee fulfils the conditions required by these bye-laws and may reject any transfer application without assigning any reasons therefor.

26. Except as otherwise provided, each member is entitled to receive the dividend, as it becomes payable, calculated on his fully paid up share capital.

Working Capital.

27. The working capital shall consist not only of the capital (bye-law 16) but also of deposits, borrowings and all other amounts raised by the Society.

Deposits.

28. The Committee shall be competent to receive deposits from members or non-members to such extent as they may deem fit, provided that

(1) the total amount of deposits together with other borrowings shall not at any time exceed two and a half times the subscribed share capital of the Society.

(2) the Committee shall be competent to receive deposits from members or non-members to such extent as they may deem fit provided that the interest ordinarily payable shall not exceed 7% per annum, the rates being determined by the Committee of Management from time to time.

(3) that no interest shall be allowed on fractions of a rupee.

29. Deposits received at the Society shall be of the following two kinds :—

1. Savings Deposits.

2. Fixed Deposits.

30. A savings deposit is a deposit made for a period of 7 years at the rate of 8 annas per mensem or an integral multiple thereof. A member who chooses to pay 8 annas monthly for 84 months shall, on the expiry of the 84th month, be paid a sum of Rs. 54. Every member shall be subscribing at least 8 annas p.m. towards savings deposit.

Should the depositor wish to discontinue his subscription before the full period of 7 years he shall be entitled to the following amounts :—

(i) Within twelve months amount paid less one anna for every monthly subscription of eight annas.

(ii) After one year and within two years, amount paid.

(iii) After two years and within three years, amount paid and interest at 5%.

(iv) After three years and within four years amount paid and interest at $5\frac{1}{4}$%.

(v) After four years and within five years amount paid and interest at $5\frac{1}{2}$%.

(vi) After five years and within six years amount paid and interest at $5\frac{3}{4}$%.

(vii) After six years and within seven years amount paid and interest at $6\frac{1}{4}$%.

31. The monthly savings deposits shall be paid before the 5th of the month in the case of members residing in Bangalore and 10th in the case of others to which it relates, failing which a fine of 2 pies per mensem on every rupee over due will be levied.

Fixed Deposits.

32. The amount of each deposit shall be for not less than ten rupees and for periods of six months or more up to three years. Fixed Deposits can be withdrawn only after the period fixed for them. Interest on these deposits shall be calculated from the day on which each such deposit is made to the day previous to that on which it is repayable, and the deposit shall, after that date, cease to bear interest unless it is renewed. But the Committee may, in special cases, pay back the deposit before the due date on such terms as it may deem fit. Interest on fixed deposits shall be paid half-yearly on the date on which it falls due or any later date on which it may be claimed.

33. In calculating interest on deposits, fractions of a pie will be omitted in the total of the calculations in respect of each deposit.

Other Borrowings.

34. It shall be competent to the Managing Committee to raise funds on behalf of the Society by borrowing otherwise than by way of deposits from

(1) Members or

(2) Non-members

(3) Other Co-operative Societies or Banks

(4) The Mysore Provincial Co-operative Apex Bank

(5) The Mysore Bank

(6) The Imperial Bank of India Ltd.

with the permission of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies and to settle the terms for such borrowings, provided however that the interest payable on the borrowed capital shall not, at any time, exceed the rate charged for the time being by the Mysore Provincial Co-operative Apex Bank and provided also that the aggregate of the borrowings by way of deposits or loans or both shall not, at any time, exceed two and a half times the subscribed share capital of the Society Liability.

35. A member shall be liable for the debts of the Society up to the nominal value of his shares and a past member shall for one year remain liable for the debts of the Society as they existed at the time he ceased to be a member.

36. When a member, not ceasing to be such, withdraws some of his shares, the extent of his liability to the Society shall, for one year from date of such withdrawal, continue to be the same as if there had been no such withdrawal.

Management.

37. The supreme authority in all matters affecting the administration of the Society shall be vested in the general body of members, as assembled at a meeting, provided that no alteration of the rules or addition to the objects of the Society or alteration of the number or value of the shares shall be valid unless it is passed by a majority of two-thirds of the members present at the meeting and unless it is approved by the Registrar.

38. The Society shall be managed by—

(a) the General Meeting,

(b) a Committee of Management.

General Meetings.

39. Meetings of the Society shall be of two kinds—Ordinary and Extra-ordinary. There shall be an Ordinary meeting every year, to be held not later than 31st August for the year ending 30th June. At this meeting a report showing the transactions of the year together with the Auditor's report and the certified balance sheet will be presented for consideration and the appointment of one or more auditors and the election of members of the Committee of Management will also take place. Extra-ordinary meetings may at any time be called ~~by the President or~~ by the Committee either on ~~his or~~ its own motion or when not less than 10 members require it in writing. If, in the latter case, the Committee refuse (for recorded reasons) or fail to comply with the requisition within 30 days from date of such requisition, it shall be competent for such members to themselves convene the meeting.

40. A meeting shall be held at a time and place mentioned in a notice. Such notice shall specify the business to be conducted and be sent to all the members not less than one week before the date fixed for the meeting. A copy of it will also be posted in the Registered Office of the Society. In the case of members who are in default for more than one month, it shall be stated in the notice sent to them that they would not be entitled to vote unless they pay up their dues before the date of the meeting.

41. No business of the Society shall be transacted at any meeting unless the quorum of members prescribed in Bye-law 43 is present. If within one hour from the time appointed for a meeting a quorum is not present, the meeting, if convened upon the requisition of 10 or more members under rule 39, shall be dissolved ; otherwise, a fresh meeting shall be convened not later than four weeks ahead, due notice being given as required by rule 40.

42. No business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place or the business for which the original meeting was called for. Such adjourned meeting may proceed with business even though the required quorum be wanting.

Quorum.

43. If the total number of members of the Society on the roll at the time of meeting does not exceed 10 in number, five members shall form the quorum; if it exceeds 10, there shall be added to the above quorum one for every 5 additional members on the roll, provided that not more than 20 shall, in any case, be necessary for a quorum.

44. In a meeting of the Committee of Management 5 members shall form a quorum.

Votes.

45. Only those members who are present at a meeting and who are not in default to the Society for more than a month on the day of meeting shall vote and no member shall be entitled to more than one vote. Voting by proxy may be allowed on application in a prescribed form.

46. Subject to any special direction in any rule of the Society, all questions before a meeting shall be determined by a majority of votes and when votes are equal the President or Chairman shall have a casting vote. Votes shall be taken at each meeting by a show of hands, unless this method of taking votes is challenged by not less than 10 members when they shall be taken by ballot only.

Functions of the General Body.

47. The functions of the General Body shall be :—

(a) to receive from the Committee the reports upon the business of the Society and the state of its affairs

(b) to determine the dividend, bonus and rebate payable ;

(c) to decide all changes in the bye-laws ;

(d) to elect members of the Managing Committee

(e) to appoint one or more auditors for auditing the accounts of the year ; and

(f) to transact any other general business of the Society.

48. The Committee of Management shall consist of ~~an Adviser,~~ a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary or Secretaries, a Treasurer and 6 other members, resident in Bangalore. Members of the Committee other than ~~the Adviser~~ and the President shall be elected by the Society for a term of one year or until their successors are ~~appointed~~. They shall be eligible for re-election when their term of office expires. In this election, vote given in favour of defaulters shall not count The Committee shall be responsible to the Society for all their acts.

49. At each general election of the members of the Committee, at least three members who have not served on the Committee during the year immediately preceding the election shall be elected. If in the result of the poll it is found that this number of new members has not been elected, then such of the members who have secured their lowest number of votes shall retire and their places taken up by new members in the order of votes secured by them.

50. The adviser shall be the Financial Secretary to Government and the President, the Comptroller to the Government of H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore and in case the Financial Secretary or the Comptroller is not a member or is

The patron of the Society will be the Dewan of Mysore and the president will be the Chief Secy to govt unwilling to accept the respective offices, the General Body shall elect the Adviser or the President from among the members. The President shall exercise a general supervision over its affairs.

51. The members of the Committee shall among themselves elect a Vice-President, a Secretary or Secretaries and a Treasurer.

52. Any of the members of the Committee of Management other than ~~the Adviser and~~ the President who fails to attend four consecutive meetings of such Committee without furnishing satisfactory reasons shall cease to be a member of the Committee.

Powers and Duties of the Committee.

53. The powers and duties of the Committee are :—

(a) To prescribe the duties of office bearers from time to time and to embody them in subsidiary rules ;

(b) To conduct the ordinary business of the Society and, in all things, to act for and in the name of the Society ;

(c) To fill up casual vacancies occurring in the Committee between annual general meetings. To employ suitable establishment for conducting the work of the Society and to grant leave to, to fine suspend or dismiss any employees on the paid staff of the Society ;

(d) To meet at least once a month or as often as may be considered necessary for the transaction of business, at a time and place to be fixed.

N. B.—In urgent cases the opinion of the members of the Committee shall be obtained by circulation of papers.

(e) To appoint sub-committees for the transaction of any special business;

(f) To check and pass monthly accounts of the Society, to lay before the General Body at their annual meeting a report on the transactions of the year, the auditor's report and the certified balance sheet;

(g) To send to each member, along with the notice convening the annual general meeting, a printed copy of (1) the Committee's report (2) the audit report and (3) the certified balance sheet; and also to hang up a copy of each of the above on a conspicuous place at the registered office of the Society;

(h) To furnish the Registrar with such returns and proceedings as may be prescribed or called for by him from time to time;

(i) To frame subsidiary rules not inconsistent with these bye-laws or the Co-operative Societies Regulation No. III of 1905 for the conduct of business of the Society (The subsidiary rules so framed shall have the same force as the bye-laws approved by the General Body);

(j) To appoint members of the Society as delegates to represent, discuss and vote on behalf of the Society at General and Committee Meetings of Central Institutions and Conferences and to send up subjects for discussions at such meetings or conferences;

54. The President or in his absence the Vice-President shall preside over Committee Meetings. If both be absent, the members present shall elect one among themselves as Chairman.

55. The proceedings of the Committee Meeting shall be recorded in a minute book kept for the purpose by the Secretary and signed by the President or Chairman.

Audit.

56. The accounts of the Society shall be audited half-yearly by one or more auditors elected at the Annual General Meeting who shall not be members of the Managing Committee. They shall have access to all the books, documents and accounts of the Society and all vouchers relating thereto, and shall either sign the same as found by them to be correct, duly vouched and in accordance with Law or shall specially report to the Society in what respects they find them incorrect, unvouched, or not in accordance with Law.

Loans to Members.

57. Loans will be given to members alone, at the discretion of the Managing Committee, but no member can claim a loan as a matter of right.

58. Loans shall be given only for useful purposes. It shall be the duty of the Managing Committee to guard against reckless or extravagant borrowings.

59. No member shall at any time be indebted to the Society by way of principal on account of any loan or loans taken by him to the extent of more than Rs. 1,000. Subject to this limit a member may, at the discretion of the Managing Committee, be given a loan (a) not exceeding Rs. 50 per share or four times his salary per mensem, whichever is less, and plus (b) not exceeding the amount at his credit as fixed or savings deposit.

60. Loans can be given in one or more of the following ways :—

(1) On the personal security of the borrower;

(2) On the pledge of Government Promissory notes or Fixed Deposit in the Society.

(3) On the joint and several responsibilities of the borrower and one or two other members standing sureties for him, provided that the loan does not exceed twice the amount ordinarily admissible to the member.

Exception.—Short loans to the extent of 75 °/₀ of salary of the member for the month or the value of the paid up share capital whichever is less, and, subject to a maximum of Rs. 100 in either case, may be given for a period not exceeding three months, provided that such loans are repayable on demand on any pay day within the period.

61. Interest on loans shall be charged at 8 1/3 per cent per annum and shall be recovered monthly in advance calculated on the balance due. In calculating the interest on a loan for a fraction of a month, interest shall be calculated for the actual number of days and not for the full month. In the case of short loans the interest shall be calculated as for 5 days and multiples thereof at one and half pies per rupee per month.

When the period of loan is for less than one month, refund of interest shall be allowed on either loans repaid before the due date for the actual period in multiples of 5 days, provided the minimum period for refund shall be 5 days and that the amount of refund shall not be less than one anna.

N. B.—In the calculation of Interest and Dividend, pies will be rounded to the nearest quarter-anna. (Vide General Body's resolution dated 23rd January 1924).

62. No loan shall be made under any circumstances, unless the applicant gives his formal consent in writing that the amount of repayment due every month shall be made from salary bills. Repayment will be made from salary bills, irrespective of all other deductions. Special cases will however, be considered by the Managing Committee. In the event of a transfer, the applicant must agree to the monthly deduction being continued from the salary sheet in his new station (one month's interval without repayment will be allowed on account of expenses incurred during transfer.) Loan instalments due with interest on the balance shall be paid on or before the 5th of the month in the case of members residing in Bangalore and 10th in the case of others. If not a penalty of 2/3 pie per rupee per month shall be levied on overdue instalments.

63. For every loan, the Managing Committee shall fix the period for the repayment when granting it; such period shall not ordinarily exceed thirty-six months, and the loan shall be repayable in not more than thirty-six equal monthly instalments commencing from the month succeeding that in which the loan is disbursed; provided, however, that when a member goes on leave, the instalment falling due during such leave shall ordinarily commence from the date of expiry of the leave. When a borrower goes on leave, an extension of time for the repayment of the loan may be granted upon his.

applying for same, provided that the total period for the repayment of a loan, including such extension, shall not exceed thirty-six months and provided further that in the case of suretyship loans no extension shall be granted without obtaining the written consent thereto of the sureties concerned.

64. It shall be open to the borrower to repay a loan wholly or partially before the due date, according to his convenience, provided that all partial repayments shall consist of full rupees and provided also that on any repayment made after the tenth day of a month, the reduction of interest on account of such repayment shall be calculated only in multiples of five days.

65. When the period for the repayment of a loan expires and no extension of time is granted or when a borrower fails to pay his monthly instalment or interest with penalty as provided for in bye-law 62 for two consecutive months, or when a borrower becomes ineligible for membership and his name has, on that account, been removed from the list of members under bye-law 8 or when a borrower is expelled from the society under bye-law 13, the loan account shall at once be closed and the borrower shall be informed of the same and of the amount outstanding against him including interest up to the date of closing the account. On the total amount so found due, interest shall be charged at the rate of two pies per rupee per mensem on the loans from the date of closing the loan account to the date of complete recovery. The Managing Committee shall take steps to recover the amount.

66. When a member standing surety for a loan becomes ineligible for membership and his name is on that account removed from the list of members, or when he is removed from the Society or when he dies, the Managing Committee shall demand of the borrower the production of a fresh surety for his loan. If a fresh surety is not produced and arrangements are not made to repay the loan within a reasonable time, his loan account shall at once be closed and action taken, as laid down in bye-law 65.

67. A month in these bye-laws means the British calendar month and for purpose of interest calculations shall consist of thirty days.

Closing of Accounts.

68. The profits of the Society shall be the profits actually realised and credited in the books of the Society. Interest on Investments to be realised will also be taken in the calculation of the profits. They shall be declared once a year after the 30th of June. The profits shall be applied in the order given below:—

(1) Payment of interest on all loans and deposits according to the rates respectively agreed to be paid.

(2) Reduction of 5 per cent on furniture, etc., belonging to the Society to form a Furniture Fund.

(3) Not less than 25 per cent of the remainder to the Reserve Fund.

(4) Payment of Dividends on the paid up share capital of each member, at a rate not exceeding 7 per cent per annum The Committee will determine at the close of each year what rate within the above limit shall be paid and this rate shall be subject to the approval of the General Body. In the case of members who have not fully paid up their share amounts, the dividends declared in their favour will not be disbursed to them but will be carried to the credit of the member to be paid after the shares are fully paid up.

(5) Such portion as may be assigned by the General Body out of the net profits of the year to the office charity fund administered by the Accountants' Association.

69. The balance, if any, after all this distribution shall be carried forward.

70. Dividends and bonus due to members who are in default to the Society, shall be credited towards their dues

Reserve Fund.

71. This fund shall consist of—

(1) forfeitures and penalties.

(2) sums periodically devoted to it out of profits, and

(3) such other amounts as may be assigned to it by the General Body.

The balance standing in this fund, as well as any other sums, shall be deposited in the Mysore Provincial Co-operative Apex Bank, Mysore Bank, the Government Savings Bank, or any Co-operative Society which has been duly registered under the Co-operative Regulation of 1905 or invested in any approved Government Securities. The Securities shall be in the name of the Honorary President. No one leaving the Society has any claim on this fund nor shall the balance at credit of the fund be divisible among the members ; but it can be made available for meeting unforeseen losses.

Seal.

72. The Society shall have a name stamp or seal which shall be in the custody of the Secretary.

Complaints.

73. Complaints regarding the conduct of the servants of the Society, or in respect of moneys due shall be made in writing to the Secretary who shall enquire into and decide upon them. His decision shall be subject to appeal to the Committee.

74. Complaints against the officers of the Society and all disputes shall be decided by the Committee. If the party concerned is not satisfied with the finding, he may appeal to the General Body whose decision shall be final.

General.

75. All documents executed in favour of the Society shall be in favour of the Honorary Secretary, ex-officio. All suits by the Society shall be instituted by the Honorary Secretary ex-officio, after obtaining the Managing Committee's sanction.

76. Receipts must be given for all payments made into the Society and shall be signed by the Treasurer. For moneys borrowed from non-members or from other Societies the bond shall be executed by four members of the Managing Committee of whom two at least shall be office-bearers. Any member shall have the right to inspect the books of the Society during business hours, on presentation of an application to the Secretary with a fee of one anna. The Secretary may refuse any such application, in which case an appeal shall lie to the Committee of Management.

77. All matters not specially provided for herein shall be decided according to the terms of the Mysore Co-operative Societies' Regulation III of 1905 and the rule, if any, framed thereunder.

~~3. Voting by proxy proposed in the draft~~ bye-law 45 should be omitted.

4. Government do not think it necessary to impose the restriction proposed by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies regarding membership of other societies as it is a recognised Business principle in all co-operative institutions to obtain from applicants for loans a list of their liabilities to other societies before considering such applications, the bye-law 58 is sufficient to enable the management to insist on this condition.

5. The Registrar, General & Revenue Secretariat will submit a report to Government at the end of 1930 as to the manner in which the society has worked during the period.
